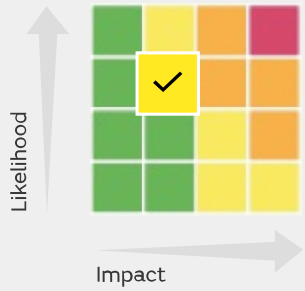
Snow showers and icy stretches over parts of Northern Ireland leading to some travel disruption

What to expect

- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services
- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

Further details

Snow showers will affect southern parts of Northern Ireland through Monday afternoon and overnight into Tuesday. Some accumulations are likely, mainly over higher ground, with 1-3 cm in places. Surfaces are also likely to stay wet following daytime showers with icy stretches then forming overnight.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
